

WINES AROUND THE WORLD

DEPUIS 1760
CHAMPAGNE
Lanson
REIMS FRANCE

BACKGROUND

The House of Lanson was founded in 1760 by François Delamotte, an influential character in Reims society.

The House developed steadily and won increasing numbers of admirers among connoisseurs, including crowned heads – The House of Lanson has been the official supplier to the British court since 1900.

UNIQUE SELLING POINT

- A balance between power and elegance.
- Lanson champagnes are harmonious, with no malolactic fermentation, ensuring fruitiness and freshness true to the Lanson style.

WHY STOCK LANSON

The official champagne for the British Royal Court appointed by the Majesty Her Queen, and the official Wimbledon champagne for the last 40 years.
